

"Royal and White"

The Darts and Dartette saw action against the Big Valley teams last Friday night. Unfortunately the game was not enjoyed by either the visiting or home teams.

The evening was marred from the start by the arrival by a most disturbing and stupid "disciplinary" attempt on the part of the Big Valley principal. This completely unprovoked action caused the congenial disposition of the Delia players to vanish, and for the remainder of the night seemed necessary to maintain a defensive attitude.

Furthermore, they were not playing under the most abnormal circumstances. The basketball court, a narrow, converted basement room, was so cramped that many very important ground rules were necessary. The ceiling was so low that the high looping shots which usually account for most of our Delia players were barely distinguishable markings on the floor added to the confusion. Set patterns of play were impossible in the playing area was too small to operate in effectively. The Delia teams were at a very disadvantage.

Finally, the Big Valley teams proved to be a major disappointment. Although they tried to bring played basketball for four years, they were unaware of some of the most simple and elementary principles of the game. The grade and foul were numerous. It was by far the most difficult job of refereeing Mr. Curtis has had. At half time he was forced to issue several of the more basic regulations such as charging, over-guarding, blocking, etc. Nevertheless, the Delia team overcame the circumstances played fairly well. The Big Valley girls scored an 18 to 15 victory over the Dartette. The Delia averaged this defeat by downing their unorthodox opponents 28-24.

The victory just released by the league president, Mr. Charzyk, bring welcome news to Delia. Three of the Darts and Dartette the Dartette are listed in the ranks of the ten top scorers in the league. Top senior boy is Pete Berger with 18 points per game. Junior is Ray Martin, 8-9 year, and then is Jim Battle, the Delia fighting guard, with 6 points per game. Top girl, Marjorie Hohenacker, is also from Delia and has managed to score 9 points per game. Fifth in the ranks is Vera Brierley, and eighth, Donna Wallace with an average of 3 per engagement.

Alberta Safety Council "ELECTRICITY BUILDS JOBS"

Rural students in Alberta schools will have the choice of two topics, highways or electrical safety, when they enter the 1959 farm safety essay competition sponsored by the Alberta Safety Council.

The topic was chosen this week by the Safety Council's Essay Committee headed by Hon. R. D. Jorgenson, Alberta Minister of Public Welfare. Last year, when nearly 35,000 rural students in grade five to eight participated in the annual competition, the topic was tractor safety.

Conducted by the co-operation since 1951, in co-operation with the Provincial Department of Agriculture and Education, the competition is open to two school groups: one comprises grades five and six, the other grades seven and eight. With prizes of plaques for school rooms and pins for the two individual winners, the competition is a local recognition of winning pupils.

Cash prizes totalling $150.00 also will be awarded. A prize of $50.00 will be to the author of the best essay in grade five, six, and a prize of $25.00 in grade seven and eight. The essay that ranks second, similarly, two prizes, one of $30.00 and the other of $25.00. The winning essays will be sent to the author of the top two essays in the grade seven and eight group. The four provincial winners, with their teachers, will be invited to a luncheon in Edmonton to receive their prizes from the Hon. Dr. J. Bowen, Lieutenant Governor of Alberta.

The month-long contest will begin March 9, and school superintendents will be furnished with topics describing it in detail. The topics were chosen on the suggestion of W. J. Perkins, the Council's Farm Safety Director, who reported that a highway accident accounted for the greatest number of farm resident fatalities last year, and on the suggestion of Prof. B. T. Stephenson of the University of Alberta, who noted both that the National Safety Council is stressing electrical safety this year, and that approximately 58 per cent of Alberta farms now are served with electricity.

Provincial winners in last year's essay on tractor safety were Judy K. Christensen and Colleen Ann Richards, first and second place respectively in the grade 7-8 group. Phyllis Treloar and Sharon E. Peterson took top honors in the grade 5-6 group.

The four, together with their teachers, were given a luncheon in Edmonton at which the Lieutenant-Governor presented prizes.

Crow's Nest Rates To Stay

The Crow's Nest Post freight rates will not be changed, according to a statement made at the annual meeting of the Post's Progress Committee last week.

The committee was told that the farmers who have seen the Crow's Nest Post rates reduced from many quarters in recent months. Earlier this winter, when the 17 per cent increase in freight rates was announced, Hon. Howard Green, then selling Prime Minister, gave a similar assurance.

The first winter in the Canadian West was grown in 1758 in the valley of the Carro River, Saskatchewan, in a French explorer, Chevalier de la Corne, and the Quick Canadian Facts

Alberta Wheat Pool "ELECTRICITY BUILDS JOBS"

Pool To Handle Fertilizer

It was jointly announced last week by the Alberta Co-operative Wholesale Association and the Alberta Wheat Pool that the Wheat Pool will handle fertilizer this spring.

The Pool is being taken because of the steady increase in volume of Fertilizer being used in Alberta each year and pressure from members for increased service, said A. T. Baker, general manager of Alberta Wheat Pool. The growing 1959 another 500 fertilizer outlets in Alberta and adjacent areas of British Columbia will be a convenience to farmers, he said.

Any of the fertilizers recommended for Alberta may be ordered from Alberta Wheat Pool agents. The Pool will handle Co-Indian Brand fertilizer, supplied by the Alberta Co-operative Wholesale Association. In teaching an agreement with the wholesale association, the Pool agreed not to interfere with the operations of local co-operative stores now handling the product.

MARKET HOG WEIGHTS

Recent surveys show the average dressed weight of market hogs in Canada increased by approximately 10 lbs. during the past 10 years. In 1941 the average weight was 133.7 lbs. and in 1957 the average weight was 164.1 lbs. This added weight is no doubt responsible for the lowering of carcass quality in hogs, especially in Western Canada, says J. J. Charzyk, livestock section, Alberta Department of Agriculture, and this situation can only be corrected by marketing hogs in the 120 to 210 lb. range.

Standing the Test of Time Concerning Thatcher Wheat

Challenging the long reign of Marquis wheat, which was the predominant variety in Western Canada for a century, is a new variety called Thatcher. Thatcher has now given more than twenty years of service to farmers throughout the length and breadth of the prairie. In its heyday, in 1955, it represented approximately 70% of all wheat grown in the west and since the development of Thatcher, it has been the most popular variety in the west. Its importance has diminished in the eastern areas of Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Despite this, quite natural way to Thatcher for protection against rust, Thatcher, in 1958, still accounted for 40% of the wheat acreage in the west. This is more than that of any other single variety and comes close to equalling the acreage of all other varieties put together.

Noted with interest is the fact that the percentage of Thatcher needed in both Saskatchewan and Alberta is steadily increasing. Thatcher has now given more than twenty years of service to farmers throughout the length and breadth of the prairie. Farmers' Cash Income

Cash income from sale of farm products in the first nine months of this year rose almost eight per cent over the corresponding period of 1957. The dominant bureau of statistics says the increase was due to the larger marketings and higher farm prices for livestock and livestock products. Total income from grain and other crops was estimated at about the same level as a year ago—$838,000,000.

4-H REGIONAL LEADERSHIP COURSES

A total of 19 4-H Regional Day Leadership short courses have now been scheduled. These courses will be held during the next month and will be located at main centres throughout the province. It is hoped that most 4-H leaders and their assistants will be able to attend the course in their area.

The program for these courses being arranged by the 4-H staff of the Department of Agriculture working in co-operation with the district agriculturists and home economists. Highlights will include an outline of what is new in 4-H this year, leadership technique, interest-club activities within the district, and problems of weight.

In each case the program will begin at 10:00 a.m. and conclude at 5:00 p.m. District agriculturists and home economists can supply all details.

Canadian Highlights of 1958

Lake St. Lawrence

The dramatic flooding on July 1st of 20,000 acres along the north shore of the St. Lawrence to form part of the new 100 square mile Lake St. Lawrence, headpond for the adjoining U.S.-Canadian generating stations at Cornwall, was the fulfilment of a 30-year dream to develop power in the International Rapids Section of this river.

Submerged beneath the artificial lake are all or part of 8 communities from Iroquois to Mills Roches and some 225 farms. Relocation involved the shifting of 6,500 people and 525 homes as well as the construction of 477 new buildings, railways and highways, in surrounding townships.

In December, Lucile Wheeler of St. Jovite, Que., climaxed a year of sports successes by winning the title Canada's Outstanding Woman Amateur Athlete for 1958. Her double victory in the World Ski Championships held last February in Austria pushed the 23-year-old champion into national prominence.

On May 12th Blackfoot Chief James Gladstone became the first Indian Senator in Canada's history. The 70-year-old rancher from Alberta took the oath of allegiance in cutaway coat and striped trousers, posed happily afterwards in his traditional dress against Ottawa's Parliament buildings.

On April 1 at 31 minutes past 9 on a misty grey morning a mighty explosion whipped the foam-flecked waters of Vancouver's Seymour Narrows into a 1,500 foot fountain caving huge boulders into the air like pebbles and destroying forever the age-old navigational hazard of twin-peaked Ripple Rock, graveyard of a hundred ships and the who went down with them. The blast was the spectacular end of a bold enterprise which was 15 years in the planning and preparation; as the boiling waters slowly settled back, the destruction of Ripple Rock took its place as one of the great engineering feats of our time.

Farmers plan mammoth petition for Ottawa

The organization of a mass delegation to Ottawa to press for deficiency payments on western grain is now in full swing throughout Saskatchewan. More than 1,000 local committees have been or will shortly be established to seek signatures for a mammoth petition requesting deficiency payments on wheat, oats and barley marketed during the crop years 1955-56, 1956-57 and 1957-58. Petition forms are now in the mail to these committees.

Local committees which will circulate the petition will be very representative of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union and other major farm organizations. A.T.U. farm groups are co-operating in the drive for signatures and the financial support to send the mass delegation to Ottawa. Its most committee, business and professional men will also be taking part in the campaign.

A series of large public rallies at key points in the province have been arranged. Newspaper advertising, television and radio programs have been organized for presentation early in January. With the campaign now in swing, more than 15,000 farm people and others will be taking part.

Saskatchewan Wheat Pool and Saskatchewan Farmers' Union delegates at their respective annual meetings, instructed organization of a mass delegation to Ottawa to press for deficiency payments.

Following meetings between the major farm organizations, the following petition was drafted: WHEREAS the cost index of commodities and services used by western farmers has risen by 50 percent in the past ten years; and WHEREAS during the ten-year period grain prices have declined to the extent that the purchasing power of a bushel of wheat, oats and barley is at the lowest point it has reached since the depression of the late thirties (for example, in the ten-year period wheat prices have declined 21 percent); and WHEREAS the imbalance between costs and prices usually referred to as the cost-price squeeze, has brought about the most serious economic conditions faced by western grain farmers since the depression prevailing at the outbreak of World War II;

We, the undersigned, hereby petition the Government of Canada to take immediate action to meet the emergency arising from the cost-price squeeze by providing deficiency payments on wheat, oats and barley delivered to the Canadian Wheat Board during the crop years 1955-56, 1956-57 and 1957-58, and to have provision to be made on a specific volume of each farmer's 3 acres to maintain the income of the family farm at a parity level.

For the purpose of the campaign, the province has been divided into districts and sub-districts, using present Wheat Pool boundaries to make the division. In addition to the eight large public rallies scheduled, there are 43 sub-district meetings and a number of local meetings planned. Local lodges of the G.W.P. and Pool elevator agents will have the information regarding these meetings.

Use for discarded nylons

What happens to those nylon stockings which you find you can no longer wear? Are they merely tossed out with the garbage? If so, you should know that they can still be put to use in a new way.

In Japan there is a government agency called "The Women's Welfare Service of Japan," which helps find employment for many women, particularly widows who must support themselves and their children. One method is to make full and knee-length stockings from slightly damaged ones, mostly to look like new; socks for men, women and children, made by unsewing the damaged hose and reweaving them; pretty scarves; small stuffed toy animals; gloves, slippers, bags, made from the discarded portions. Unusable pairs of stockings are made into nylon yarn from which cushions, mattresses and shoulder pads are made.

Twenty-one workshops employ some 400 women, and 1,000 women work in their homes.

If you wish to help these unfortunate women of Japan, save your damaged nylon, ask your friends to save theirs and send them in five or ten-pound parcels to:

Women's Welfare Service of Japan,
Doko-Kengo-Kai Bldg.,
8-3-chome, Haranaka,
Shinjuku-ku, Tokyo,
Japan.
Send only clean (washed) material, and write "Gift" and "No commercial value" on the label of the parcel and on the dedication slip.

WHY BE AFRAID?

Fear can spoil life for children and grownups. The person who fears everything from an insect to thunder can miss a great deal of enjoyment and happiness. It helps if children are taught to analyze their fears — most of them fall apart when they are closely examined. A child should never be frightened by threats of the bogeyman. Boldness and dauntlessness should never be used as punishment or a fear may develop that will last into adulthood.

Saskatchewan Government protests further freight rate increase

The announced intention of the railway companies to make immediate application to the Board of Transport Commissioners for a further horizontal increase in freight rates has been strongly protested by H. L. P. McInnis, minister of municipal affairs, on behalf of the Government of Saskatchewan.

The government's protest, dispatched by wire to the Prime Minister of Canada on January 2, stated:

"Previous horizontal freight rate increases granted by the Board of Transport Commissioners have been grossly discrimination against the citizens of the Province of Saskatchewan and others and any further such increase would only serve to compound an already unjust freight rate structure.

The Government of Canada has recognized this discrimination in the application of freight rate increases by directing an inquiry to be made into the situation and by announcing its intention to bring further legislation at the next session of parliament which will have the effect of rectifying the situation.

"The Province of Saskatchewan submits that the Board of Transport Commissioners should not be permitted to entertain or later any application by the railways for further horizontal freight rate increases pending the outcome of the inquiry which we believe is presently in progress and until parliament has had the opportunity of considering the matter and taking appropriate legislative action."

Servicemen honored posthumously

Additional Saskatchewan place names have been adopted to honor the province's servicemen who gave their lives in the Second World War.

"In the years to come," said Hon. A. G. Kuusk, minister of natural resources, "the many lakes, islands, bays, rivers and localities named after servicemen will serve as their monument."

In many cases the address of the parents or next-of-kin is not known. It would be appreciated if interested parties would write to the Minister advising of the address of parents, so that the necessary biographical particulars may be filed with historical records of the province.

Due to increased development in the north it has become necessary to identify the lakes and other features to facilitate administration and development. The names have now been officially adopted by the Canadian Board of Geographical Names and will be published on future maps of Saskatchewan.

In the Cree Lake area 300 miles north of Prince Albert the following features were named:

FROM THE FOUR corners of the globe where the numbers are working to maintain world peace, the Canadian Army looks back on another year of progress and achievement. Soldiers digging-in during another winter training exercise in Canada's northern barrens contrast sharply with comrades patrolling Egypt's Sinai desert on camel over terrain inaccessible to most cars. Canada's recently purchased "La-crosse" ground to ground missiles, more than for any rail year.

Completions in October also soared over last year with a gain of 39 percent to bring the increase for the 10 months to 24 percent with a record 137,742 units. And lastly, the number of units under construction at the end of October was a fourth larger than last year at 84,365.

High-Riggers

One of the most skilled and spectacular jobs in Canada's colorful logging industry is topping and rigging the spar tree—used to hoist and load heavy timber onto railway cars and trucks.

The high-rigger is a experienced logger, who spends considerable time and thought in selecting the right tree. He limbs tree as he scales it, tops it at the 120-150 foot height where trunk measures 14-20 inches in diameter.

Cool nerves are essential as high-rigger clings to trunk of topped tree which may sway from 14-20 feet, then they begin rapid descent. Experts limb and top a tree in 1 day, rigging spar tree may take a week.

3-inch spurs which bite deep into tree and sturdy ropes with steel core are part of safety equipment. For their skill and daring high-riggers are paid $22 a day.

Vitamin C is found in citrus fruits, tomatoes, cabbage, turnip and broccoli, as well as in tomato juice. Since vitamin C is present in larger amounts in green leafy vegetables or green leafy vegetables are taken raw, they can be used to make some recipes. Slices of raw turnip or potato, sliced and added to some snack trays together with celery or radishes. It is a good idea to add boiling water to citrus fruit or tomato juice, since this reduces the vitamin C.

CLOSE-UP OF STRETCHER HANGERS showing the simple manner in which they may be installed or dismantled.

By "LEEN A. MARTINSON, Director of Public Safety and Health for S.A.H.Q."

One of the most recent achievements in Civil Defence is the conversion of trucks into ambulances in 15 minutes.

Wm. H. Rogers, member of the House of Commons, told hundreds of patients from Deer Lodge and other hospitals were evacuated to Regina and there it was built.

More of transportation companies, railways, bus companies, trucking companies maintain—and they are right—that to any disaster, transportation is essential.

Many a person who has been injured in an automobile accident or train wreck is harmed more by the manner in which he is carried to the hospital than by the injury.

After considerable research and work, Civil Defence experts have come up with a device to convert trucks to ambulances—and it is very simple. All it requires is that the truck be modified to hold the stretcher.

The stretcher is held in place by the winch bolts which hold the stretcher in place. The stretcher does not weaken the truck.

In a matter of minutes to attach the stretcher by turning of the bolt through these holes—also in the stretcher—and a patient, to maintain him and concentrate.

What form should the new legislation take? In its 54-page brief to the federal Ministry of Labour, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association puts forward a number of propositions designed to eradicate existing evils.

Among other things, the C.M.A. recommends that expulsion of a man from his union for any reason other than non-payment of dues shall be treated as automatic loss of his job.

That unions be liable for damages where their members engage in a illegal strike resulting in loss or damage to an employer;
That picketing be made in-lawful in the case of illegal strikes, intervention disputes and employers not directly involved in a strike;

That secondary boycotts (refusal to do business with a neutral employer) be made unlawful.

None of these proposals can properly be termed unreasonable or imprudent. Their implementation in legislation would in no way prevent unions from pursuing their legitimate objectives.

What they would do, in making unions subject to the law like everyone else, is afford to innocent persons and the public a large measure of protection at present denied them.

ABOVE THE LAW

To a considerable extent, trade unions in Canada today stand above the law. They enjoy a freedom from the individual—not to mention the interests of the public—freely flouted at will.

Existing federal labour laws,
like those of most provinces, were drafted when unions were weak and struggling bores. They protect the rights of unions, but take little or no account of their responsibilities.

Such laws are plainly inadequate now.

Unions, therefore, of course cannot be expected to join in the growing demand for labor laws with teeth in them. But whatever they may say in public, there is good reason to believe that many of them are privately reemitted to the fact that there must be new legislation.
